

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The New Haven Lime company had a disastrous fire a week ago, when nearly 1,200 tons of soft coal were burned.

Rev. George Pomfret, for six years pastor of the Baptist church at West Derby, read his resignation last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robitsek celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Jan. 7, in Swanton with mass, a wedding breakfast and a reception.

Miss Mary Haynes of New Rochelle, N. Y., has been appointed school nurse at St. Albans for the remainder of the school year. She held the same position last year.

Floyd Contermarsh recently met with an accident while skiing in Hartford. In passing the garage of Hugh Ray, his arm struck against the building with a force that broke his wrist.

Mary Masse, 12 years old, was injured a few days ago while playing with a dynamite cap at her home in Randolph Center, so that three fingers which were badly mangled, had to be amputated.

In memory of her daughter, Mrs. Vera Mills Howard, Mrs. James Mills of Wells River has given a sum of money to the ladies aid society of the Congregational church, the income to be used by the society.

Leslie White of West Corinth has a kitten which she is bringing up on milk. She has it taught so she can lay it down on the lounge, give it the bottle and it will hold the bottle with all four feet and drink all the milk.

At the watchnight party in Albion Springs Dec. 31, Miss Maudie Derby accidentally had a hat pin stuck into one of her eyes. It did not penetrate the sight and if blood poisoning does not set in the eye can be saved.

Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emery of Lyndonville, got the middle finger of his left hand caught under the steel runner of a heavy sled while sliding recently and the finger was so badly injured it had to be amputated at the first joint.

In Waterbury and vicinity plans are being made to tap more maple trees this year than ever before, farmers planning to make enough maple sugar for their own use anyway, if the sugar shortage is to continue, there is already a brisk demand for buckets.

Herbert Church met with a serious accident the first of the week while chopping wood in the woods of Hancock. He was standing on a log while chopping off the limbs, when he slipped and fell onto the stub of a limb, which was driven through his clothes and into his back. He lost much blood while waiting for his father to get aid to carry him home, but will recover.

Be Brave, Ye Women, Enter the Kitchen.

Margaret Deland, the well-known writer, says in the January Woman's Home Companion: "This is a brave world just now, and it shames us to admit, even to ourselves, how we hate to face some domestic duties; we hate to ask about left-over dropped eggs; and still more do we flunk the going back to the good sense of mothers and grandmothers, and do our own ordering! There is, however, one thing that would help us now, a craven housekeepers immensely, namely, a community effort! If groups of women—the women's clubs, the women of a parish, the women of a street—would get together and pledge each other their moral support, the domestic situation would be immensely helped; we would cease to be bullied by our kitchens. Once let Mary realize that not only Mrs. A. is 'mean,' and Mrs. B. 'snoops around in the refrigerator,' and Mrs. C. 'gives us a call-down about yer potato parsnips,' but that the whole alphabet of housekeepers will not permit waste, Mary, too, and all her kind, will finally fall into line!" "You know the fable of the old man and his sons and the sticks? The single stick was easily broken. The single housekeeper is easily cowed. The single stick is unbreakable! If we women, all together, insist upon a moral, social, economical course, our kitchens will join us."

The Third Liberty Loan.

There is no escaping the significance of the statement by Secretary McAdoo early this week to the effect that the third Liberty loan was to be offered "sometime after Feb. 1." It has an ominous sound. Not that the loan itself is disturbing. That is expected—this one and more like it. But February is a cold month here in the North, and while the secretary doesn't say the loan is coming in February, he does manage to give the impression that, in the words of the old almanac, about this time we must look for it. Imagine canvassing for a Liberty loan in weather like that of the last week.

Well, forewarned is forearmed. Knowing what we are likely to be "up against," it is for us to prepare for it. And the New Hampshire executive committee is setting us all a good example by getting to work early.

The creation of this committee, it will be remembered, marks a departure in Liberty loan procedure. Heretofore the work in this state has been directed at the federal reserve bank at Boston. We have had local and district committees, of course, but they haven't been supervised by New Hampshire men. Now we have the whole job in our own hands, under the Liberty loan committee of the federal reserve bank, of course, and our own men are already planning their campaign.

In all probability the outlines of that plan will soon be made public. Local committees named, and the machinery set in motion for preparing the ground for the big drive. And because it is to be a big drive for a big sum, and also because it is to be a time of year when driving is difficult business, there is no time to be lost in getting town and district organizations into working shape.

Assuming that the executive committee will soon have its working state organization complete, and that we shall have our accustomed spell of mild weather in January, the preliminary work ought to be well in hand when the time for the actual canvass arrives. That, however, is in great part up to the local workers—official or unofficial—bankers, business men, manufacturers, editors, the clergy, the school teachers, everybody in public or semi-public life everywhere, everybody possessing any influence for good.

The loan will probably be a large one. It is more than likely to come in cold weather. The state has not been comprehensively combed under the now discarded method of handling it. This time it is supposed to comb it from end to end, city, town and hamlet—and probably in a wild, wintry month. Obviously the thing cannot be done right unless thorough preparatory work is done well ahead of the actual drive. Let us all take hold of this thing with the executive committee and make the third Liberty loan a success in New Hampshire, be the weather what it may.—Manchester Union.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 76c.
